Active Listening – HR Course

Active listening is the ability to focus completely on a speaker, understand their message, comprehend the information and respond thoughtfully. This course will cover what active listening is, why it’s important, how to become an active listener and more.