MOJAVE RATTLESNAKE FACT CHECK

- 1 The "Mojave Green" is just a color of some mojave rattlesnakes, not a separate species.
- 2 While quite defensive, they are not "aggressive", and will not chase, jump, or attack your horse, tractor, truck tire, or uncle Mike.
- 3 They are not coming out early this year, or last year, or the year before that ...
- 4 There is no such thing as a "mojave red" rattlesnake. Some other species are red, such as speckled and red diamond rattlesnakes, and are often misidentified.
- 5 There are no 6 foot mojave rattlesnakes. A large mojave is about 3.5'– 4' long, no matter what that guy from work says.
