

York Reducing Workers Compensation Claims

A York bulletin on simple things businesses can do to reduce the cost of their claims for both property and liability.

Risk management is essential in reducing workers' compensation claims and managing your total cost of risk. However, even the best risk management practices cannot prevent all claims from occurring. At York, our job is to partner with you to reduce the cost and the impact of the claims that do occur. Our philosophy is "Pay what our clients owe, defend what they don't."

For Workers' Compensation claims, having the right policies in place and...